Wilderness Lodges

Tortuga Lodge

Tortuga Lodge

The plantation-style structures that arise from this private reserve are located in the depths of what has been dubbed “The Amazon of Central America”. A lush network of navigable waterways, populated by hundreds of exotic species, offers not only delightful nature experience but a sense of getting away from it all.

A river lodge built in harmony with its tropical environment, our hotel offers a tranquil, relaxing and exclusive experience. Each of our 29 rooms provide sweeping views of the Tortuguero River and offer luxury amenities.

Boëna Wilderness Lodges

Tortuga Lodge & Gardens is part of an exclusive collection of five Costa Rican eco-inns called Boëna Wilderness Lodges. All are distinctive hotels in spectacular natural environments, including Pacuare Lodge, on a world class whitewater river, Cloud Forest Lodge, and Monteverde Lodge, in the cloud forest, and Lapa Rios, overlooking the Pacific in the pristine Osa Peninsula rainforest.

Tortuguero

The region is known for Tortuguero National Park, an incredibly biodiverse enclave of almost 300 sq. mi, two-thirds of which is a marine reserve. This rugged park has few hiking trails, so it's best explored by boat. Tortuguero is the Amazon of Costa Rica's Caribbean coast, a dense tropical jungle where the rivers are the only highways. You can't even drive to here, though you can fly (but you'll miss a great boat ride).

Fauna

Three species of monkeys (Spider, Howler, and White-faced), Three toed Sloths, and river otters are frequently seen along the natural inland waterways and canals. Caiman, iguanas, river turtles, Basilisk Lizards, and Poison Dart Frogs (Dendrobates) inhabit the area, along with more than 320 species of birds including the Great Green Macaw, all six species of kingfishers found in the new world, three species of toucans, eight species of parrots, and other neotropical species such as the Slaty-tailed Trogon, White-collared Manakin and the Purple-throated Fruitcrow.

Turtle season

Tortuguero ("place of turtles") is most famous for the thousands of sea turtles (Green, Leatherback and Hawksbill) that come ashore between July and September to lay their eggs on the beach and bury them in a ritual millions of years old.
